

Property Law UK Building Safety Act 2022 Special Edition

COMPANY NEWS

On the 28th of June, Property Law UK a subsidiary of IQ Legal Training released a special Building Safety Act 2022 edition of their monthly publication. This edition is available FREE to members and non-members alike.

You can hear Ian discuss the edition in more detail in the above video. This edition has been collated in collaboration with Tanfield Chambers, and is supported by Property Law UK sponsors Stewart Title Limited and Dye & Durham.

To read the edition click here.

ABOUT PROPERTY LAW UK

Property Law UK (PLUK) is a specialist electronic property law publication which features case reports, articles and commentaries from several property law specialists and practitioners.

Each edition includes:

- Expert guest editors
- Case law updates
- Articles on relevant topics
- Evidence for CPD purposes
- Access to an extensive library of previous cases and articles
- Two free training webinars each year

READ MORE

RECENTLY ADDED

We are delighted to advise that The Building Safety Act 2022 – Acting for Landlords has been added to IQ Legal Training's e-learning repository.

This training, introduced by Ian Quayle and presented by Andrew Butler KC of Tanfield Chambers, will guide landlords and managing agents through the requirements of the Act and key concepts such as “qualifying lease”, “relevant building” and “building safety risk”. It will also cover the certification procedures, and discuss complexities such as the difficult concept of “association”.

READ MORE

Building Safety Act 2022 Flowcharts

The Building Safety Act 2022 has caused as much alarm as we have ever encountered in conveyancing circles for good reason. It is a vast piece of work that has significant consequences for landlords, leaseholders, anyone associated with residential leasehold management, and of course transactional property lawyers. With that in mind, IQ Legal Training, in collaboration with Tanfield Chambers has launched a range of teaching aid flow charts to simplify the relevant provisions of the Building Safety Act 2022. To find out more:

- Building Safety Act 2022 Acting for Buyers Training Flowcharts for Conveyancers click here.
- Building Safety Act 2022 Acting for Landlords Training Flowcharts for Conveyancers click here.

E-LEARNING

Residential Conveyancing for Support Staff 2023 – Online Course

Residential Leasehold Conveyancing for Support Staff – Online Course

Co-ownership Issues for Residential Conveyancers – Online Course

Demonstrating compliance with CQS – Online Course

The Building Safety Act 2022 – Online Course

LIVE WEBINARS

12 July Flying Freehold, with Zoe Upson

13 July Half Year Review Webinar, with Ian Quayle

06 Sept Sales Packs: 5 Easy Steps to Avoid Enquiries, with Zoe Upson

07 Sept Enquiries – What's the Score? with Zoe Upson

INFO@IQLEGALTRAINING.COM

07379 134 942